

The logo for Holbert Apple Associates, featuring the letters 'HA' in a serif font. The 'H' is black and the 'A' is blue. A thin blue horizontal line is positioned below the letters, and a thin blue vertical line is positioned to the left of the 'H'.

HOLBERT APPLE ASSOCIATES
STRUCTURAL ENGINEERS

The logo for Greenman-Pedersen, Inc., featuring the letters 'GPI' in a large, bold, dark green serif font.

LEE/SHOEMAKER

LEE/SHOEMAKER TEAM COUNSELS
HOLBERT APPLE ASSOCIATES, INC.
IN TRANSACTION WITH GPI

Holbert Apple Associates, Inc. (Holbert Apple), a leading provider of consulting structural engineering, was acquired by Greenman-Pedersen, Inc. (GPI) as of December 31, 2021. GPI specializes in the innovative design and construction of transportation infrastructure and building projects based out of New York with over 1,600 employees in 50 offices.

Holbert Apple, a Maryland-based firm with over 20 years structural engineering experience with extensive project experience across the Mid-Atlantic, will initially operate independently as a wholly owned subsidiary of GPI.

“Holbert Apple’s merger with GPI provides the Holbert Apple staff with tremendous professional and personal growth opportunities. We are fortunate and thrilled to have found GPI as our new home,” says David H. Holbert, P.E., President of Holbert Apple.

James F. Lee, Jr., Esq., Joseph W. Cooch, Esq., and Taylor T. Dolan, Esq. of Lee/Shoemaker PLLC represented Holbert Apple in drafting and negotiating the Letter of Intent, employment agreements and all transactional documents.